

My Kaleidoscope

My Kaleidoscope is one courageous woman's memoir of her life from early childhood on, who raised her family in Theresienstadt, a concentration camp in what is now called the Czech Republic, resulting in a story of survival but with suffering and heart-wrenching loss an uphill battle that most didn't make it through. Emma Fuchs defied the odds. She saved her daughter and gave her a new life in America. While it may be easy to say they survived, it leaves out the story of how they got there. My Kaleidoscope is an emotional ride that will rip you through the journey of love, loss, and hatred. It will make you appreciate your freedom and understand the road that was paved before us. It demonstrates with humanity the role choices can make in the path to life. This journey is retold by Shari J. Ryan, great-granddaughter of Emma Fuchs a survivor of the Holocaust. Proceeds from My Kaleidoscope will be donated to the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum.
