

5 Disciplines Every Gifted Educator Must Master: A Story of Technology Integration and Servant Leadership

All too often educators are called to create a classroom community for 21st century gifted learners without a framework or vision of how to accomplish it. The 5 Disciplines Every Gifted Educator Must Master fills this void and empowers educators with a rich picture of what this environment could look like. Through storytelling, Dr. Maynard shares a delightful tale of a day in the life of a gifted teacher. The story begins before the students arrive and ends when the day comes to a close. The reader experiences how the teacher comes alongside students as an ally. This foundation is based in servant leadership. She adapts to the students individual needs creating an architecture that meets them where they are in the learning process. A masterful teacher knows how to aggregate the best print, digital, and human resources to promote a learning environment that fosters autonomy for every student. This story of servant leadership and technology integration will paint a rich picture of an environment where students will thrive. Whether you are a classroom teacher, a gifted and talented specialist, or a parent homeschooling your own children this book will leave you feeling inspired to serve the students in your classroom differently than you have in the past. This delightful story will inspire you to create an ideal learning environment for all students.
